THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE MET AT 12:30 O'CLOCK.

The Alger, Blaine, Sherman, Allison and Hawley Forces Agree to Vote Together

On A. questions arising in the Convention. Such as Adjournment, Etc.—New York

In a Fair Way to Get Subbed—De Young Says Harrison and Allison are Weak

On the Tariff and Chinese Questions—A Strange Letter from Senator Ingalls. Morning Notes.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Inter-Ocean says a number of lieutenants of the various candidates met about 12:30 o'clock this morning. All the candidates were represented except Senator Harrison.

J. S. Clarkson was Senator Allison's near friend in the meeting. Major McKinley, Green B. Raum, Senator Quay and Major Bottorwin appeared for Sherman. Mr. Blaine was represented through members of the California crowd. Powell Clayton was also on hand, and two or three of Mr. Alger's best men. Senator Farwell was there for Judge Gresham. The meeting did not adjourn until 3 o'clock. It was learned that one thing was very unanimously decided upon, and that was to prevent any hasty action being precipitated upon the convention or allow a stampede to take place in favor of any dark horse. The delegates represented will vote together on all questions, such as adjournment, and in event any delegation wants time to consider what course it will pursue, the convention will adjourn. It was concluded that the best way to do the business of making a candidate for the Republican party was to proceed slowly and act with mature judgment. The names of none of the candidates were brought before the meeting. It is now clear that New York does not hold the key to the nomination and that the convention does not intend that it shall dictate who is to be the nominee. It is now thought that a conclusion will not be reached before Monday.

The convention will meet this morning, and if any delegation wants time to consider an adjournment will be asked. The conclusion reached by the meeting will prevent any stampede should Blaine's name be sprung on the convention. The friends of the various candidates seem satisfied with the turn things have taken.

Another paper says the caucus decided that with a break in New York it would be impossible for Harrison to be nominated, and the general opinion was that he did not have votes enough to secure the nomination. There was no disposition to take Mr. Blaine's name up this week at least. The result of deliberations held outside was to arrive at an understanding with Senator Quay, who is to hold the Pennsylvania delegation away from Harrison. Gresham, Allison, Alger and Sherman go into the convention again with the forces at their command and without concentrating all on an individual. This means that the convention will probably be carried over Sunday.

The Wisconsin delegation held an informal meeting in Senator Spooner's room late last night. At its conclusion Henry C. Payne, delegate at large, said to a reporter for local papers: "Wisconsin will cast her twenty-two votes for Harrison. There was no formal action taken in the matter and none was necessary. All the delegates were present and expressed themselves that way."

"What led to this sudden change of opinion?"

"Wisconsin sent an unimpaired delegation to Chicago. It was deemed advisable to tender Governor Rusk a number of complimentary votes. We expected that in the meantime New York and Indiana would indicate their preference. New York has selected Harrison, who is also the choice of the Indiana delegation. If New York and Indiana are satisfied with Harrison we are."

"Who will be given the second place?"

"Morton, of New York, of course. The second place must go to New York and Morton is the man."

A report was current after midnight that New York had agreed to transfer 40 votes to Harrison on condition that if it shall appear that Harrison could not be nominated, the votes given him should be released. Combinations of every conceivable sort were talked about.

Senator Hisscock was sought by a reporter and asked how many votes New York would cast for Senator Harrison this morning. "Senator Harrison will receive 50 votes from New York," was the reply.

"Was Mr. Depew's name withdrawn with a view of a stampede of the Sherman ranks?" asked the reporter.

"Mr. Depew's name was withdrawn with a view of nominating Harrison," Mr. Hisscock emphatically replied.

Another member of the New York delegation, who stands high in the councils of the party, said they were in earnest for Harrison, and would do their utmost to nominate him. They believed that the other delegates would not dare ignore the wishes of New York after she has withdrawn her candidate.

At the conference of the representatives of the Sherman, Alger, Harrison, Blaine, and Allison delegations, which took place this morning at the Grand Pacific between 12 and 4 o'clock, M. H. De Young, representing the Blaine interests, made a statement that if Harrison was nominated it would be utterly impossible to elect him. He could not possibly carry the Pacific coast nor would he be able to carry any of the larger states, because where the labor element predominates, because had voted against the Chinese bill and treaty and every phase of it, and he had committed a still greater crime in voting to naturalize Chinamen and give them the right of suffrage, and that Allison was in the same boat. The statement made by Mr. De Young created great consternation.

Colonel Henderson, representing the Allison interests, made the statement that he thought Mr. De Young was mistaken about Allison.

Mr. De Young stated that he had the records and would produce them tomorrow at the meeting of the conference. The effect of Mr. De Young's statement caused a representative of the New York delegation to make a statement that he did not think his delegation would support Harrison if these facts were brought before them, and he asked Mr. De Young if he would appear before the New York delegation today and make the same statement.

The Indiana supporters of Mr. Harrison this morning called on the Chicago delegation and stated that they would not attempt to force the nomination of Mr. Harrison until after the recess today, till this matter can be explained away.

SENATOR CULLOM ILL. CHICAGO, June 23.—Senator Cullom was taken sick yesterday afternoon and is confined to his room. Several physicians were called in and failed to agree as to the nature of the senator's illness. His ankles have swollen so that he is afflicted with a touch of erysipelas. Others insist that the senator has simply over exerted himself by remaining upon his feet for hours and almost days at a time. He is in no pain.

ANOTHER LETTER. Ingalls' alleged antagonism to the candidates before the convention.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Daily News prints the following letter from Senator John J. Ingalls, received by a member of the Kansas delegation in the Republican convention:

VICE-PRESIDENT'S CHAMBER, WASHINGTON, June 23. It does not make much difference who is nominated, in my judgment. The candidate will cut but a small figure in the light. We can elect anybody or we shall fail. The least conspicuous and, therefore, the least compromised man will be the best—somebody like Hayes in 1876. I have all the men named there is not one leader, no one whose personal and historical relations to the people would make a difference of 1,000 votes in the canvass. Sherman, Allison, Harrison, etc., have records that would be awkward on the tariff, the currency, the Chinese question, etc. Depew's connection with railroads and corporations would be a heavy load, and especially in the agricultural states. We might as well nominate Gould or Vanderbilt at once. My impression is that Mr. Gresham comes nearer filling the bill than any of the others, with some fellow like Phelps of New Jersey, who could reach the conservative forces of the east and get contributions from manufacturers and Wall Street. But you can judge much better than I what is the best, after consulting with the delegates. I have the use of the wires during the convention, by the courtesy of the company, and you can, therefore, telegraph me fully at all times if anything of interest transpires.

Truly yours, JOHN J. INGALLS.

THE MISSOURIANS.

Why Gen. Henderson was not Complimented.

CHICAGO, June 23.—During the afternoon, after the adjournment of the convention until 7 p. m., there was a vast amount of quiet work done, though there were but few people at the various headquarters of state delegations. Not more than a dozen men were in the rooms of the Missourians at any one time during the afternoon, and only one delegate, the others having gone to the local game, out on the lake, or to the race track. Chairman Filley sat alone in the room above headquarters receiving an occasional guest and putting in a good word for Alger when opportunity offered.

There was some little curiosity among the Missourians as to who deserted the Gresham crowd after the first ballot, on which Judge Gresham received 11 votes, while on the third he got but 9. The men who changed their votes from Gresham were W. A. Jacobs, of Chillicothe, and S. K. Crawford, of Warsaw. On the next ballot tomorrow morning, however, they will go back to Gresham, and his friends are not expected to desert him on the fourth ballot. The vote on the first ballot the Missouri delegation was cast as follows:

For Gresham—D. P. Dyer, St. Louis; D. W. Pollock, St. Joseph; A. W. Mullins, Lincoln; W. A. Jacobs, Chillicothe; S. K. Crawford, Warsaw; John R. Martin, Washington; W. L. Morsey, Blair; P. M. Pollard, St. Louis; L. P. Parker, Rolla; J. Ford, Duncan. Popular Union—6.

For Sherman—Chauncey I. Filley, St. Louis; Wm. F. Sullivan, Gallatin; Eugene S. Low, Mt. Vernon; P. C. H. Jones, St. Louis; Y. B. Robinson, Tusculum; Frederick King, Marshallfield—6.

For Alger—Joseph H. Pelham, Hannibal; John Albus, Jr., St. Joseph; H. J. Polham, St. Louis; Charles Schweickhardt, St. Louis; Henry Zeigenthaler, St. Louis; E. C. Allen, Clayton; Horace Willmarty, St. Louis; Samuel A. Risley, West Plains—8.

For Allison—William Warner, Kansas City.

For Harrison—Julius A. Sanders, Savannah; J. C. Stewart, Webb City; Geo. A. Neal, Osceola—3.

For Depew—C. P. Hess, Macon; Orville Vaughan, Clinton—2.

For Blaine—John A. Duncan, Kansas City—1.

On the third and final ballot for the Crawford and Jacobs vote, the Alger leaving Gresham 9, and increasing Alger to Knight 2, and taking 1 away from Sherman. Pearce went from Sherman to Alger with a few votes.

The result of the third ballot was as follows: Gresham 9, Sherman 4, Allison 11, Depew 2, Harrison 2 and Blaine 2.

P. B. Robinson, delegate from the Eleventh district, has been called home by serious illness in his family, and his alternate, C. C. Bell (colored), will vote for Sherman. Deliberate forces had joined the Gresham faction had he remained.

CLAIMS HE IS UNFAITHFUL.

A Fashionable Baltimore Lady Prays for a Divorce.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 23.—Mrs. Sidney Smith Swan, the wealthiest lady in Maryland, with the exception of Miss Garrett, has filed a bill in the circuit court of this city, praying an absolute divorce from her husband, Donald Swan, on the ground of his unfaithfulness. The social prominence of the parties has made this new scandal the talk of Newport and Baltimore society circles. Mr. Swan has filed his answer to the wife's pleading, making opposition, but putting the plaintiff to proof as to the essential change of the bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan were married eight years ago, she at that time being 15 years of age and he 22. They have one child, Mrs. Swan is a daughter of the late Wm. F. Turner, of Wheatland, W. Va., and a granddaughter of Edward Patterson, of Baltimore. Mrs. Swan's grandmother was a daughter of General Samuel Smith, who was United States senator from Maryland for thirty-three years.

Mr. Swan is a son of the late John Swan, of Hunting Ridge, Md. His grandmother was a sister of Wm. Donnell and John S. Donnell, both of whom were members of the Senate of the United States. Mr. Swan was a clerk in a bank. Mrs. Swan inherited $2,000,000 from her grandfather and other relatives, and the newly wedded couple lived elegantly in this city. Mrs. Swan's grace of person and mind had made her a favorite in Baltimore society. Mr. and Mrs. Swan were in the habit of spending their summers at Newport, where they occupied a cottage during the season, and entertained largely. Mrs. Swan being there, as in Baltimore, a social favorite.

The proceedings for a divorce were begun very quietly, and the greatest effort was made to keep the facts from becoming public. Since the filing of the bill Mrs. Swan has gone to Newport in company with her aunt, Mrs. Louise Patterson. Four months ago the couple went to Paris. While there the gay young husband is reported to have spent $2,000 in a single week. About a month ago he returned, his wife refusing to live with him any longer. The same steamer that brought back young Swan brought a letter from his wife to his father, in which she wrote: "I send you home your son." The wife returned in another steamer and began divorce proceedings.

STILL A PUZZLE.

TWO FRUITLESS BALLOTS TAKEN YESTERDAY.

Congressman McKinley, of Ohio, Asks the Delegates to Vote No More for Him.

Sherman Still Leads in the Ballots, With Harrison a Close Second—Depew Says Blaine

Will be Nominated by Acclamation—Colonel Ingersoll's Speech of Friday Night Cooked Gresham.

A Rumor Whispered of a Ticket that Reads Blaine and Harrison—The Vote by States.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, June 23.—The convention meets this morning with the usual rumors of combinations flying through the air as thick as black birds. Everybody is asking his neighbor what he knows and his own exclusive tip to impart to meet any unfavorable news he may hear from others. Col. Robert G. Ingersoll does not appear in the hall but his name is on many lips and his interrupted speech of last night which appears to have irreparably hurt the Gresham boom, although the Illinois candidate's friends refuse to admit this, and say the convention must come to him eventually. As time for the meeting of the convention arrives, the Gresham movement is almost lost sight of in the conflict of opinion as to the great fight which is pending at once between Harrison and Allison. Senator Cameron has prevailed upon Quay, who leads the Pennsylvania forces, to go into an Allison combine and the junior senator from Pennsylvania went into the convention last night with 55 votes for Allison and a firm conviction that the Iowa candidate would be nominated on the second or third ballot. He was confused at the Harrison movement in New York, and got Hastings to move an adjournment to gain time. Quay was at work all night fixing up the Allison fences and his delegation is now in session hearing the news. If Quay can succeed with the Allison movement, he may run in with the Harrison tide, but is more likely to join in a combination of the field against the Indiana candidate. The friends of Harrison are claiming that the Blaine people are coming over to their man and that he will succeed after three ballots. But while all these rumors and counter rumors fill the air, a good many long headed people are watching a man sitting in the Ohio delegation. A man with a fine clear cut face who is a promising dark horse in the race, who, if the convention can agree on any of the candidates now up, is looked on as a winner. This is Congressman McKinley, who has made an excellent impression here and is very popular. It is expected as a significant fact that as the hour of the convening arrives there are but few of the leading spirits of the convention in the hall. This indicates that conferences are still going on and that no agreement which might prevent a fight has been arrived at.

While the convention is kept waiting for a call to order the band in the organ loft struck up "Marching Through Georgia," which has always heretofore been applauded, but everybody is so deeply absorbed in attempts to analyze the situation that the music made no impression whatever. As the minutes pass there begins to grow a strong impression that no result will be possible at this morning's session, and that after several ballots the convention will take a recess. If this is done, it is considered highly probable that no nomination will be made before Monday, by which time, it is hoped, some one can be agreed upon which will put a stop to the deadlock. One of the best evidences that the presidential puzzle is as much a puzzle as ever is the fact that there is comparatively to talk about a vice-presidential nominee.

The convention was called to order at 10 a. m., but it was not until twenty minutes later when the proceedings were formally opened by Chairman Estee calling on Senator Warner Miller, of New York, to preside over its deliberations. Bishop Samuel Fulwides, of Chicago, delivered the invocation. He called down the Divine blessing on the president and all others in authority, and the Divine protection on the stricken general of the army, who, he prayed, might find another conqueror in his brave struggle for life.

Mr. Lewis, of Kentucky, rising to a question of privilege, said that he had been answered as voting on the third ballot yesterday, when as a matter of fact he voted for Gresham. The chair said that the correction would be made.

The convention then proceeded to ballot.

THE RESULT OF THE BALLOT.

The fourth of the convention and the first of today was as follows:

Sherman.....253
Lincoln.....11
McKinley.....11
Harrison.....217
Gresham.....42
Blaine.....88
Allison.....15
Alger.....13

When Connecticut was called, one vote was cast for Mr. McKinley, of Ohio. As soon as this announcement was made Mr. McKinley was seen to rise in his seat and amid the most impressive silence succeeded in making a statement. He was greeted with a storm of applause. He said: I am here as one of the chosen representatives of my state. I am here by a resolution of the Republican convention passed without one dissenting voice commanding me to cast my vote for John Sherman and use every worthy endeavor for his nomination. I accepted the trust because my heart and judgment was in accord with the letter and spirit, and purpose of that resolution. I am pleased to have the honor of casting my vote for me. I am not insensible to the honor they would do me, but in the presence of the duty resting upon me I cannot remain silent with honor. I cannot consistently, with the credit of the state whose credentials I bear and which has trusted me, I cannot with honorable fidelity to John Sherman, who trusted me in his confidence, I cannot consistently with my own views of my personal integrity, consent or seem to consent to permit my name to be used as a candidate before this convention. I could not respect myself if I could find in my heart to do, say or permit to be done, that which could be even a ground for any one to suspect that I wavered in my loyalty to Ohio or my devotion to the chief of her choice and the chief of mine. I do request, I demand that no delegate who would not cast reflection upon me, shall cast a ballot for me.

Mr. McKinley spoke earnestly and with emphasis. He was evidently sincere and the convention at the conclusion of his little speech generally applauded.

The ballot was then proceeded with without further incident, all Illinois was reached when a break of three votes from Gresham to Harrison created a sensation, and was received with a mingled demonstration of hisses and applause. When New York was reached the galleries hissed. After the vote of the state giving Harrison 50 votes and the delegates cast a poll of the delegation. The poll showed no change in the vote. As the ballot proceeded, there is shown in addition to the usual use of the delegates, a very decided growth in the Alger vote which comes chiefly from the south. The Pennsylvania vote still sticks by Sherman, he getting 50 of the 60 votes from that state. This is a part of the Quay program to beat Harrison. The Wisconsin vote brings a change.

The convention then proceeded to another ballot, which, if the program of the field against Harrison is carried out, will be the last of the session. An adjournment will be taken as soon as the ballot has been taken.

Note one absent in New York.

After the second ballot had been taken Governor Foster, of Ohio, moved a recess till 4 o'clock this afternoon and the motion was seconded by Mr. Duffield, of Virginia. On behalf of New Jersey Senator Sewell demanded a roll call, which was immediately proceeded with. When Missouri reached the roll of states it was so evident that the motion would prevail that Senator Sewell withdrew his demand for a roll call.
